Friends of the Mihai Eminescu Trust

Newsletter

2018 - 2019

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL YEAR

A year in which we have continued our work in the Village, restoring houses, planting trees, setting up workshops and educational projects, running guesthouses and business enterprises.

Some of it would have been possible without our dedicated team in Sighisoara, Angela Muller, Alexandra Neagu, and Michaela Tish as well as our builders and craftsmen. Our greatest debt is to Nicolae Bocsa, our Director in Romania, and to Ioan Bocsa, Director of Consultancy, without the driving force behind our work in Transylvania.

BUILDINGS RESTORATION AND UPGRADES

The restoration of village houses has finished during the warm season between April and late September, when the craftsmen have returned to their homes in Romania. Some of the craftsmen have contributed what they can towards the work.

Ty Bocsa

Ty Mihai

Ty Ioan Bocsa

Ty Alexandra

We have the winter maintenance of roofs, renovations, roofs, lawns, windows, paint, floors, interior and exterior lime wash and mural, stairs, boilers, will now be carried out regularly by the crew.

Ty Ioan Tanase (Director of Consultancy) and Ty Mihai

Ty Ioan Tanase donated the funds for the roof, and the stairs.

We continue to promote the work of the MET in the countryside and business schemes in the ADEGA Cluster, Poiana and Harviard.

LONDON SCHOOLS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA IN TRANSYLVANIA

After sell-out performances in the Royal Albert Hall and Barbican, on 31st July the LSSO orchestra travelled to Mihaiesti. In the heart of Transylvania, this is the village where the Tinan has saved and restored a number of traditional wooden buildings, as well as the 19th century Romanian church and the 17th century Apafi Manor.

The hundred strong group of musicians arrived in Bucharest and then on to Pitesti Park. They spent a day working and playing with 100 Romanian musicians who were under the guidance of Gabriela Rotaru from the MET. In the words of the orchestra's tour leader, " dance, among horses, carts, millwheels and traditional houses, with the backdrop of a metamorphosis hills and, dense woods, streams and thatched roofs from children and young adults".

Start of the orchestra arriving at the Apafi Manor

The musicians relaxing in front of the Manor before their evening performance

In the evening the orchestra performed in the Manor's courtyard, with the Romanian Folk Ensemble, followed by a barbecue and an evening party at Traditional Saxon Manor House.

On September 13th, following the success of their Romanian Tour, the orchestra gave a concert at the Barbican Centre in London. Before it began the Tour invited MET Friends to a drink in the Fountain Bar. The concert was a sell-out performance, with the Barbican Hall filled to capacity. It was conducted by the young conductor and violinist Ingrid Oy Romanian and Hungarian folk music. The programme included Enescu's Romanian Rhapsody No 1, Bernstein's Piano Concerto (soloist Aleksandar Madzar) and ended with a stunning performance of Dvorak's Symphony No 9 "From the New World".

Pitesti Park. Artistic Director & Conductor of the London Schools Symphony Orchestra

Pitesti Park. Artistic Director & Conductor of the London Schools Symphony Orchestra

RICHIS LITERARY FESTIVAL

Richis Village (Photo: Jonas Gerald)

Once again MET are pleased to be supporting the Book Festival in Richis, which began on 12th September

Philip Shepherd

Amongst the speakers in this year's programme are Philip Shepherd, historian of Gaiana and of the Romanian Revolution, Jonas Gerald, author of the novel "The Dark King and the Prince of Transylvania (Louis XIV and Gyula II Rakoczi)"

Patchwork by Lilian Hall

Another sponsored by the MET is the Patchwork Exhibit Hall in conversation with author Andrea Ross talking about Nick Leeds and her life in Saxon Transylvania. Her publication is now available and published and unique. Now in her eighties, she lives in Sighisoara.

Over the years of the quests, the MET provided the beautifully newly restored Richis house in the heart of the village. Details of MET guesthouses can be found on the Experience Transylvania website.

RICHIS

The restored house, No 119 Richis, is now available to rent of the basis of Bed & Breakfast.

Inside the restored house. An attract, kitchen and cozy bed chamber

For booking information for all MET guesthouses, see: Experience Transylvania

MET and ACCOR
Planting for the Planet Programme

Between 15th March and 30th May 2018, ADAGIO have been planted in 10 village locations, several hundred trees, including 1,000 fruit trees. Each location has been chosen in consultation with the local community, ensuring degraded areas of pasture and arable land are the ones most suitable for planting. Each location has been chosen in consultation with the local community, ensuring degraded areas of pasture and arable land are the ones most suitable for planting.

Varieties of trees planted this year included: Fagus (Beech), Picea abies (Spruce), Fraxinus (Ash), Quercus petrae (Evergreen oak), Acer pseudoplatanus (Sycamore maple), Larix, Alnus glutinosa (Common alder).

AWARDS & NETWORKS

MET received 2nd prize from the Romanian Chamber of Commerce for the "Best Development of Cultural Landscape (Transylvania Style area)". The landscape plan was included in the Europe Nostra Listing Kit. Citizen Engagement & Education, aimed at providing CSOs with a better understanding of the importance of citizen engagement and of the core values and principles of Aarhus Network Action Members.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The projects described above are only a selection of the highlights from the projects completed during 2018.

The Horizon Foundation provided funding and sponsorship for which we are most grateful. Also to our Directors, Richard Candell, David Campbell, Christopher and Francesca Antonelli, Belinda Bowring, Ioan Bocsa, Ioan Tanase, Nicolae Bocsa, and many wonderful people who have contributed their work time.

Partners: Horizon Foundation, Acces Orbi Hotels, Kings Living Foundation, Cyan and Asia.

Thanks to: Ioan Bocsa, Nicolae Bocsa, Ioan Tanase, Alexandra Neagu, Angela Muller, Michaela Tish, Interconsultant Ioan Chapelaru, Ferdinand Tanase (retd?), Babeseh-Bolyai University, Lumina University Lincoln, ADTV - National Cultural Fund Administration, Ivan Nevrincu, Council of Europe.

We thank all those who joined Friends of the MET and we thank for all their generous donations.

FUNDING

The achievements of the Trust are only made possible by your donations. Please send any offers of help or donations to the Treasurer, Richard Candell. The Trust is a registered charity, a non-profit organisation governed by the Richard Eminescu Institute. Their programmes of giving serve as a touchstone. For years ago or, in order to continue with our orientation projects, we must look elsewhere for our funding. Please send any offers of help or donations to the Treasurer, Richard Candell. The Trust is a registered charity, a non-profit organisation governed by the Richard Eminescu Institute. Their programmes of giving serve as a touchstone. For years ago or, in order to continue with our orientation projects, we must look elsewhere for our funding.

Our mailing address is:
13 Clarendon Rd, London W11 4JD